A REMNANT OF CHIVALRY. -The present use of the distinction, "Esquire," conveys not the slightest idea of its origin, or appropriation, in past ages. The esquire originated in chivalric times, when sons of gentlemen, from the age seven years, were brought up in the castles of superior lords-which was an inestimable advantage to the poorer nobility, who could hardly otherwise have given their children the accomplishments of their station. From seven to fourteen these boys were called pages or valets. Long after the decline of chivalry the word esquire was only used in a limited sense, for the sons and peers of nights, or such as obtained the title by creation or some other legal means. Blackstone defines esquires to be all who bear office of trust under the crown, and who are styled esquires by the king in their commissions and appointments; and being once honored by the king with the title of esquire, they have a right to that distinction for life.

SHOE FACTORIES .- The Virginia People learns that a joint stock company is organizing in Pulaski county, for the purpose manufac-turing Boots and Shoes on a large scale. The company is to have $10,000 capital; shares to be sold at $50. Nearly seventy shares have already been taken, and there is a fair prospect of selling the rest. The people of Pulaski are striking in the right direction. The Winchester Shoe Factory, was started on a capital of $10,000. That factory is now receiving orders from the South and West to such an extent as to not only insure the success of the enterprise, but render necessary an enlargement of its factories to meet the unexpected demands
